

Dyrand Systems' Managed Network Service Selected By Cryopak Industries

Vancouver, BC — February 22, 2005 Dyrand Systems Inc, a leading provider of managed network & security services, announced today that Cryopak Industries has selected Dyrand's Managed Network Service for its complete IT support requirements.

“Outsourcing a mission-critical function such as our IT was not an easy decision”, says Craig Watson, Corporate Comptroller at Cryopak Industries. “By enlisting with Dyrand’s Platinum Service Plan, we actually decreased our IT costs while our IT stability and service levels went up. We now have a fully scalable solution in place that will grow with us without having to recruit and train additional staff.”

“Today's competitive work environment requires companies to do more with less. We are constantly looking to improve our service offering so that we may serve our outsourcing clients in a more effective, less costly manner.” says Trent Dyrsmid, CEO and founder of Dyrand Systems. “We are very excited to add such a prestigious company as Cryopak Industries to our client list. We look forward to providing them with the peace of mind that their IT is taken care of by experts.”

Dyrand’s Managed Network Service provides small and medium sized companies with all the benefits of a full-time IT department for less than the cost of a single employee.
